A HISTORY TRAIL

EXCURSIONS ALONG COLLEGE AND MACQUARIE STREETS, SYDNEY

DESIGN YOUR OWN TRAIL

1 The Anzac Memorial is NSW's principal memorial to Australians who have served their country during wartime or on peacekeeping. Built during the height of the Great Depression, it is architecturally significant and imbued with meaning. The Memorial is a powerful reminder of the First World War, ideal for a site study. The Spirit of Anzac exhibition presents the individual experience of Australians at war. Exploration can be self-guided, or guided tours can be tailored to the needs of teachers and students.

4 Museum of Australian Currency Notes – at the Reserve Bank of Australia's museum, learn about the nation's banknotes against the background of Australia's economic and social development, from colonial settlement through to the current era. Discover the personalities on our banknotes, along with the features that help protect Australia's banknotes from counterfeiting. Take a self-guided tour through the museum, or book a guided tour. Presentations on the functions of the Reserve Bank are also available.

6 The State Library of NSW is a unique cultural destination housing the world's most extensive collection of manuscripts, paintings and artefacts relating to European discovery, exploration, settlement, history of Australia, as well as an astonishing Indigenous collection. Innovative onsite and online learning programs are designed to inspire creativity, exploration and discovery. Programs include curriculum linked behind the scene tours, site studies using iPads, exhibition programs and specialist workshops for gifted and talented students.

2 Australian Museum – engage in a site study at Australia's first museum or explore Indigenous Australian cultures. The Indigenous Australians: Australia's First People's exhibition presents the cultures and history of Indigenous Australians through artefacts, paintings and a variety of media, including interactive technology. Our curriculum-linked programs are self-guided or facilitated by an educator. Resource rich interactive workshops are also available.

5 NSW Parliament House – experience Australia's oldest Parliament from within with free 90 minute curriculum-based tours, including role plays, of the historic Legislative Assembly and Council chambers on non-sitting days. On sitting days, schools and visitors can view parliament from the public galleries. A range of student and teacher programs is available along with free site study and other resources in various media.

7 The Royal Botanic Gardens' excursion program, Bringing Learning to Life, draws on spectacular outdoor plant displays to provide quality learning experiences for K-12 school students as well as teachers and tertiary students. Our most popular lessons relate to the Aboriginal heritage and colonial history of the site. Aboriginal educators lead groups to identify local plants and their uses and experienced education staff explain historic events in the very place where they occurred. Students can also use 'smartphone' technology to Time Travel by Satellite.

3 The Hyde Park Barracks Museum – explore Australia's convict history at this World Heritage site. We offer curriculum-based programs for primary and secondary students. Our guide-led programs focus on convict settlement and archaeology and use an inquiry-based, hands-on approach to facilitate learning.
